CONSTRUCTION PROCESS

INSTALLATION TOOLS:

CONSTRUCTION PROCESS:

1. Structural Adhesive

The structural glue places the metal connector on the back of the rock plate (3 long sides greater than 1200mm and 2 long sides less than 1200mm). (Figure 1)

Figure 1

Bayonet type stainless steel connector

Rock plate groove, connector paste

Connector maintenance

2. Grassroots processing

The base surface shall be cleaned up, and the surface shall not have dust, oil pollution, mold release agent and other substances affecting the bonding of the adhesive and the base surface. In the local hollow area, it must be removed first and then leveled again with cement mortar, and finally the dust and garbage should be cleaned up with a broom. Wash and wet the base surface before construction, and the construction can be clear on the base surface.

(Figure 2)

3. Elastic grid

After the base level reaches the construction requirements, the section and lattice line can be broken, and the standard point of the veneer layer can be determined to control the size and vertical flatness of the surface wall.

(Figure 3)

Figure 3

4. Preparation of adhesive

Water or emulsion and adhesive powder weight ratio is about 1:4 (according to different climate can do appropriate adjustment), first a certain amount of water or emulsion into the mixing bucket, and then the right amount of dry powder into the mixing bucket, with low speed electric mixer to stir evenly to thick paste, adhesive after ready to stand 5~10min, stir again before use. The operating time of the adhesive is generally 2h at room temperature (the operating time refers to the time of preparation to use). It is strictly prohibited to add cement and sand in the mixing process, or add the initial adhesive with water.

(Figure 4)

5. Base surface scraping glue combing

Water or emulsion and adhesive powder weight ratio is about 1:4 (according to different climate can do appropriate adjustment), first a certain amount of water or emulsion into the mixing bucket, and then the right amount of dry powder into the mixing bucket, with low speed electric mixer to stir evenly to thick paste, adhesive after ready to stand 5~10min, stir again before use. The operating time of the adhesive is generally 2h at room temperature (the operating time refers to the time of preparation to use). It is strictly prohibited to add cement and sand in the mixing process, or add the initial adhesive with water.

(Figure 5-6)

Figure 6

6. Rock plate adhesive surface scraping combing

According to the design requirements, the appropriate specification positioning device should be used to ensure that the size of the remaining joints meets the design requirements and ensure the consistent width of the remaining joints. Apply the backcoated rock slab to the base surface of the combed adhesive. The adhesive that has been scraped can not be left for too long, if the adhesive surface has been dry shrink film, should be recoated or scraped off and recoated.

7. Rock plate shop stick

After the rock slab is laid to the base surface, the plate vibrator should be used to vibrate back and forth on the surface of the building rock slab. At the same time, leakage of overvibration or overvibration should be avoided, so that the adhesive between the rock slab and the base surface is dense and full, and the flatness of the rock slab should be adjusted timely to meet the national standard. After the initial coagulation of the adhesive, it is forbidden to move the rock slab again.

(Figure 8)

8. The vibration solid pressure flat

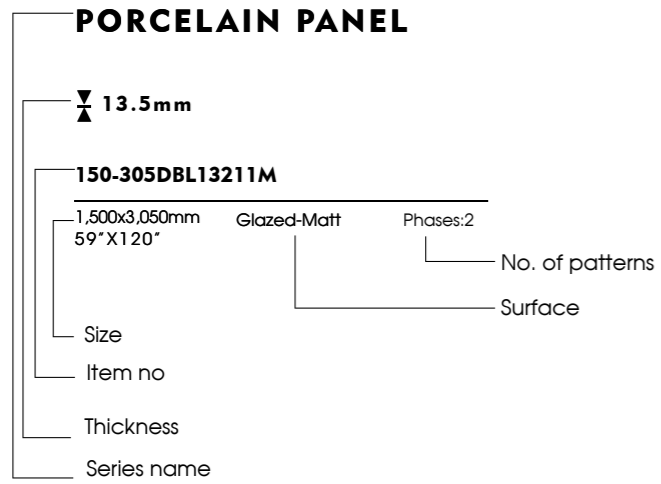

Use the impact drill drilling, and ensure that there is enough hole depth to meet the length of the plastic expansion bolt, install the plastic expansion bolt in time after the hole position drilling, and ensure the stability and firmness, must meet the pull strength required by the industry standard. Turn the copper wire on the embedded plastic expansion bolt.
